Exhibition

The Exhibition department is our strength: we design and create exhibit booths that are strong customizable in design and material. We create original solutions to communicate brand values and instill beauty and innovation at the same time.

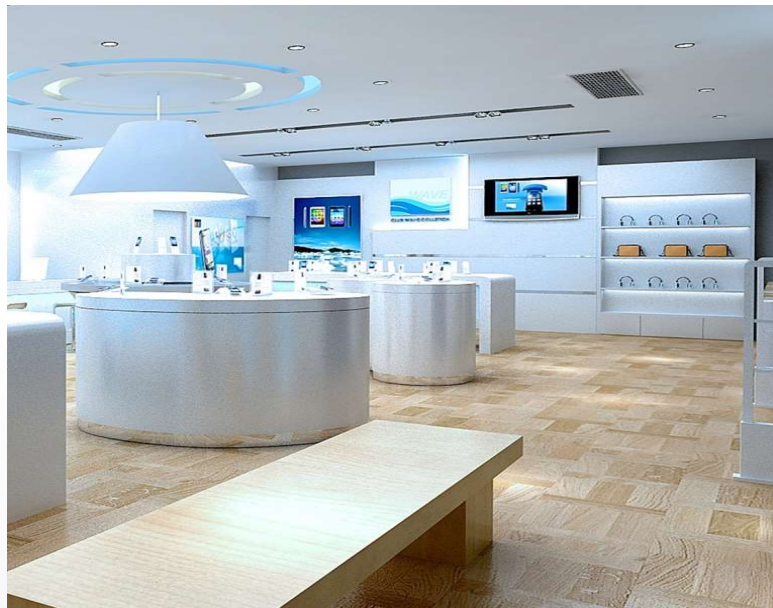

The exhibition stand is a simple and at the same time complex space: it promotes the exhibited products and offers a unique experience to its visitors. It is in fact a real brand awareness tool.

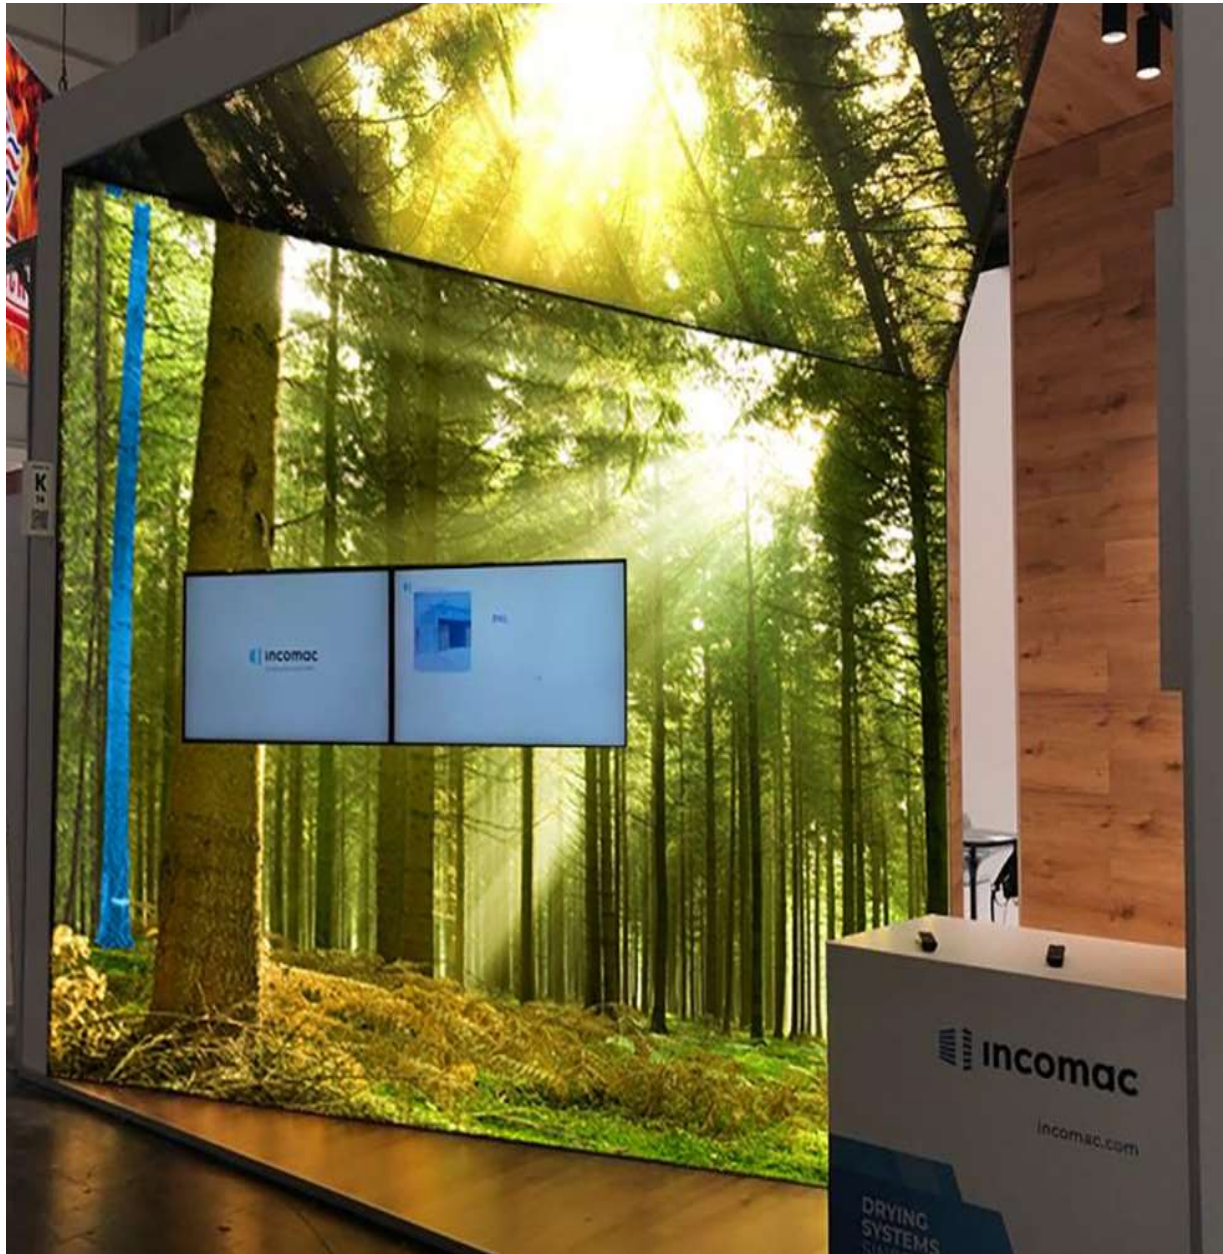

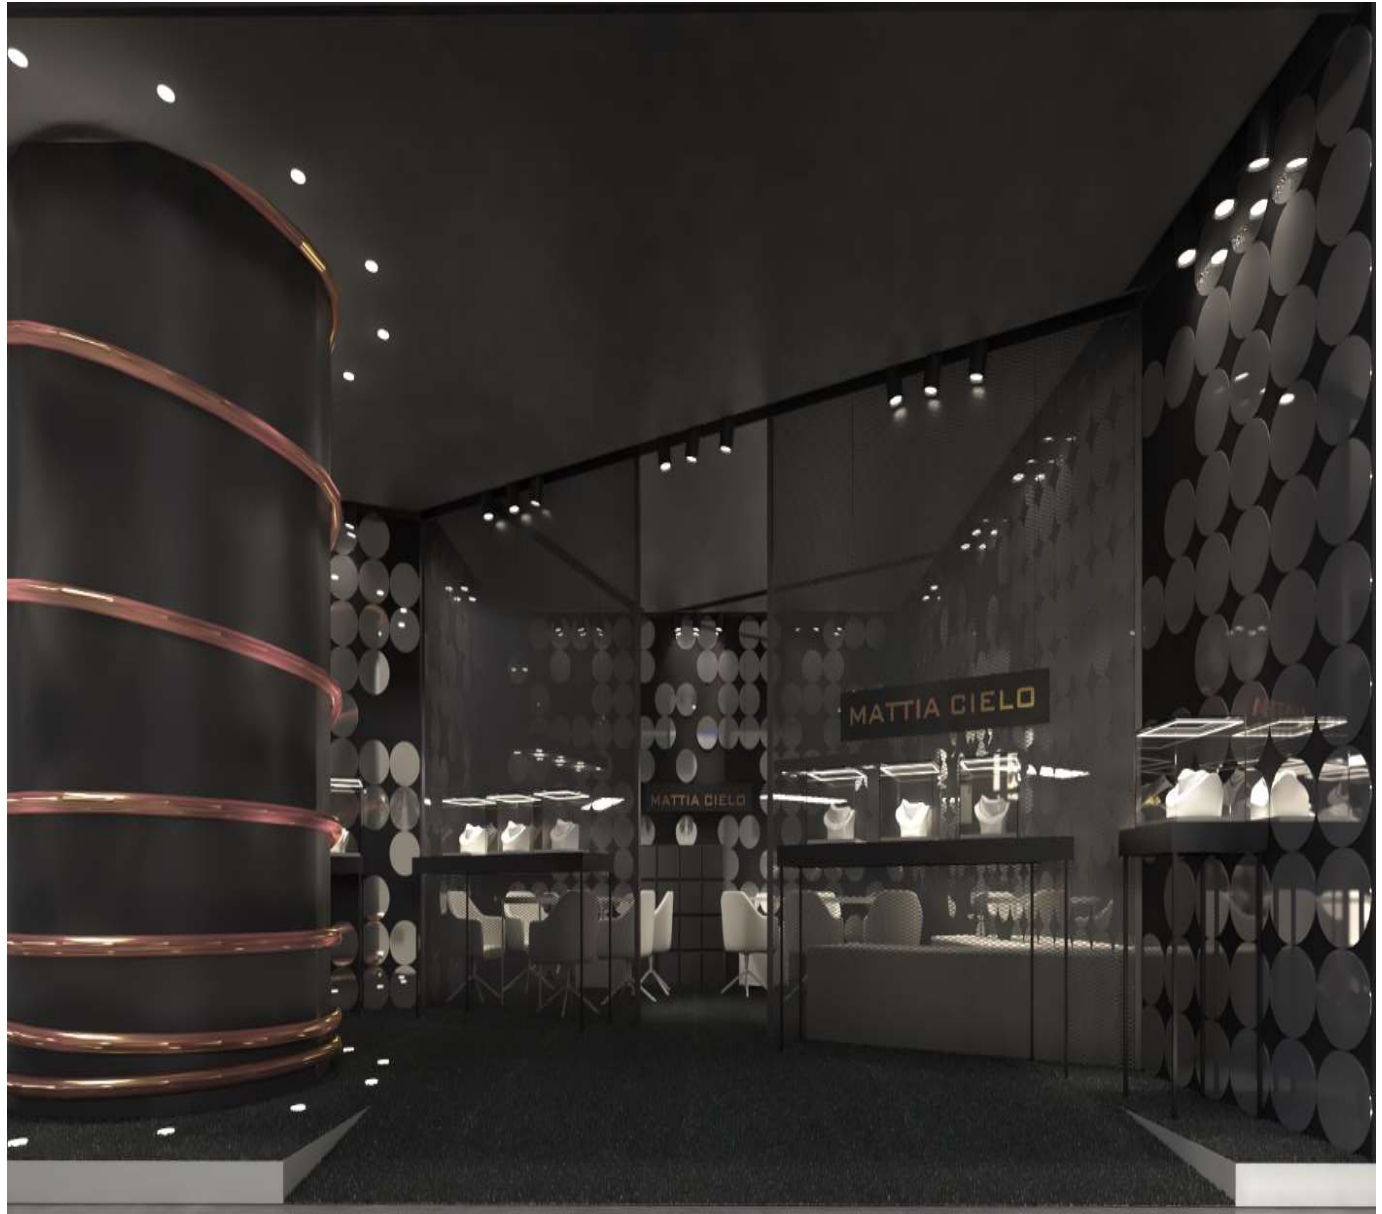

AKT retail department is the department that deals with design in detail. Thanks to twenty years of experience and the ability to create ad hoc solutions, AKT can create stores and showrooms that are full in line with the style and image of clients and their images.

Every store is a unique space: every company needs to be able to communicate its brand values and products range in the best way possible. Some project aspects include space choreography, materials selection, smart light positioning that allow products to stand out.
